SIUE To Graduate Nearly 1,000 During Fall Commencement

(EDWARDSVILLE, Ill.) Nearly 1,000 students are eligible to graduate from Southern Illinois University Edwardsville during fall commencement ceremonies at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 19, in SIUE's Vadalabene Center.

Eligible candidates from the Graduate School and the Schools of Business, Education and Nursing will march at the 9 a.m. ceremony, while candidates from the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS), as well as the Graduate School and the School of Engineering, will receive diplomas at the 1 p.m. ceremony.

Jennifer Rehg, assistant professor of anthropology, winner of the 2009 Teaching Excellence Award from SIUE, will give the commencement address at both ceremonies. SIUE's Teaching Excellence Award is the most prestigious teaching award a faculty member can receive as determined by the Teaching Excellence Award Committee, consisting of faculty and students.

Rehg received a $2,000 prize as part of the recognition determined by the Teaching Excellence Award Committee, which consists of faculty and students, who found her "very passionate in delivering lectures" and who has a very dynamic relationship with her students.

Rehg joined the College of Arts and Sciences as an adjunct faculty member in 2003 and a year later was named assistant professor in a tenure-track position. Before coming to SIUE, Rehg was an instructor at the University of Illinois. She earned a baccalaureate in anthropology in 1995 at Washington University in St. Louis, where she graduated summa cum laude. She received a master's and a doctorate, both in biological anthropology and both at the U of I.

The names of graduate candidates from Illinois and Missouri, and their degrees, are first, and then alphabetically from other states. Students graduating with special honors are indicated as follows:

* = Cum Laude,  = Magna Cum Laude,  = Summa Cum Laude, † = Meridian Scholars:
